

What He Meant To Say

"There's an old saying in Tennessee — I know it's in Texas, probably in Tennessee", sorry, channeling my inner Bush to repeat an old saying about, "Dancing with the one that brung you".

Apparently the saying never reached Indiana where the Donald's running mate Mike Pence resides. Mike Pence has had the unenviable task of walking behind the elephant and cleaning up the carnage and poop he leaves behind. Now Pence is outright breaking with the Donald's statements and countering them with the sanitized versions we've all grown to expect.

Come on Mike, have the strength of your convictions and stand by your man. Tammy Wynette did, and look at what success it brought her. You've got to dance with the one that brought you, it's just good manners.
