

Robot Bombers

There's a lot of disturbing stuff in the news today.

I'm still mulling over the concept of the Dallas police sending in a robot bomb to kill the Dallas assassin. Intellectually, I know that dead by SWAT is the same as dead by robot bomb, it just feels less sporting, or something. Of course, I always question why time limits get put on these things.

If the perpetrator is pinned down, and you know he's not going anywhere, wait until he goes to sleep. I guess waiting makes the police look like they're not in charge or something.

Hard to say.
